VS.	§	CIVIL ACTION NO. 9:13cv227
DIRECTOR, TDCJ-CID	§

MEMORANDUM ORDER OVERRULING PETITIONER'S OBJECTIONS AND ADOPTING THE MAGISTRATE JUDGE'S REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION

Petitioner Stephen Travis Smylie, formerly an inmate confined at the Duncan Unit of the Texas Department of Criminal Justice, Correctional Institutions Division, proceeding prose, brought this petition for writ of habeas corpus pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2254.¹

The court referred this matter to the Honorable Keith F. Giblin, United States Magistrate Judge, at Beaumont, Texas, for consideration pursuant to applicable laws and orders of this court. The Magistrate Judge recommends the petition be dismissed.

The court has received and considered the Report and Recommendation of United States Magistrate Judge filed pursuant to such order, along with the record, pleadings and all available evidence. Petitioner filed objections to the magistrate judge's Report and Recommendation.

The court conducted a de novo review of the objections in relation to the pleadings and the applicable law. See FED. R. CIV. P. 72(b). After careful consideration, the court concludes petitioner's objections should be overruled. Petitioner has previously attacked his convictions and sentences for aggravated kidnapping and aggravated robbery.² Therefore, petitioner needed to obtain permission from the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals prior to filing his petition, which he did not do.

Petitioner attempted to bring this petition pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2241. As the magistrate judge noted, however, a prisoner may not file a petition under § 2241 to avoid restrictions applicable to specific habeas statutes. See Tolliver v. Dobre, 211 F.3d 876, 877 (5th Cir. 2000).

² See Smylie v. Dretke, No. 4:03cv5315 (S.D. Tex. Mar. 10, 2005) (dismissed with prejudice on the merits); and Smylie v. Thaler, No. 4:12cv1826 (S.D. Tex. July 11, 2013) (upon transfer Fifth Circuit denied permission to file a second or successive § 2254 application).

Further, the restrictions which AEDPA places on second and successive habeas petitions do not amount to a suspension of the writ. See Felker v. Turpin, 518 U.S. 651, 664 (1996); Bagwell v. Dretke, 376 F.3d 408, 411 n. 13 (5th Cir. 2004). Accordingly, petitioner's claims should be dismissed.

Furthermore, petitioner is not entitled to the issuance of a certificate of appealability. An appeal from a judgment denying federal habeas corpus relief may not proceed unless a judge issues a certificate of appealability. See 28 U.S.C. § 2253; FED. R. APP. P. 22(b). The standard for granting a certificate of appealability, like that for granting a certificate of probable cause to appeal under prior law, requires the movant to make a substantial showing of the denial of a federal constitutional right. See Slack v. McDaniel, 529 U.S. 473, 483-84 (2000); Elizalde v. Dretke, 362 F.3d 323, 328 (5th Cir. 2004); see also Barefoot v. Estelle, 463 U.S. 880, 893 (1982). In making that substantial showing, the movant need not establish that he should prevail on the merits. Rather, he must demonstrate that the issues are subject to debate among jurists of reason, that a court could resolve the issues in a different manner, or that the questions presented are worthy of encouragement to proceed further. See Slack, 529 U.S. at 483-84. Any doubt regarding whether to grant a certificate of appealability is resolved in favor of the movant, and the severity of the penalty may be considered in making this determination. See Miller v. Johnson, 200 F.3d 274, 280-81 (5th Cir.), cert. denied, 531 U.S. 849 (2000).

Here, petitioner has not shown that any of the issues raised by his claims are subject to debate among jurists of reason. The factual and legal questions advanced by petitioner are not novel and have been consistently resolved adversely to his position. In addition, the questions presented are not worthy of encouragement to proceed further. Therefore, petitioner has failed to make a sufficient showing to merit the issuance of a certificate of appealability. Accordingly, a certificate of appealability shall not be issued.

ORDER

Accordingly, petitioner's objections are OVERRULED. The findings of fact and conclusions of law of the magistrate judge are correct and the report of the magistrate judge is ADOPTED. A final judgment will be entered in this case in accordance with the magistrate judge's recommendations.

SIGNED this the 17 day of September, 2014.

United States District Judge
